CHAPTER 1 - INTRODUCTION

PREAMBLE

The Squamish People come from the ones who spoke the Squamish language and the territory from Clendening Creek, Sims Creek, Elaho River, Ashlu River, and Squamish River to the Cheakmus River to the Mamquam River to Howe Sound and the area above Xwmełch'stn (Capilano), Eslhá7an (Mission), Chich'elxwí7kw (Seymour), and the area around False Creek, English Bay, and from Point Grey to Roberts Creek. This is where we are truly from.

We, the Squamish people, express our right to choose our leaders and to choose our leaders how we wish to choose them. This Law reflects our values as a people, respecting our history and who we are today.

The Squamish Nation is the amalgamation of several Squamish peoples. The Squamish Nation exists for the good governance of the people, the land and gifts given to us from these. The Squamish People have, from time to time, amended the process for choosing its leaders. This has occurred throughout the Squamish Nation's history since 1923.

This law shows the feelings of the Squamish Peoples'.

The Squamish Nation has the responsibility to provide transparent and accountable government through impartial, open, fair and free elections and referendums. To accomplish this, a voting process with integrity and honesty is needed for the common good of all Squamish members. The purpose of this Law is to create a process for choosing leaders that reflects the accurate wishes and desires of eligible voters. Voting will be carried out in a manner that promotes public confidence and trust in the integrity of the Squamish Nation officials elected to office and the Squamish Nation government.

The Squamish Nation adopts this Law based on these values.
