WOODFIBRE LNG & FORTIS BC EAGLE MOUNTAIN GAS PIPELINE PROJECTS

Update from Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw Rights & Title and Environmental Working Group

We recognize we are in canoe season so if you are on the water and have any concerns, please contact 778-966-1117 immediately.

ONGOING CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITIES

With both projects in the construction phase you may observe more activity around town and at Swiyát.

FORTIS BC EGP

The Tunnel Boring Machine (TBM) at the BC Rail Yard in Squamish is currently being commissioned (fully tested) and plans are to break ground late April. An increase in truck traffic to and from the site may be observed.

The TBM at the West Portal (above the WoodfibreLNG site at Swiyát), is still being assembled and work is expected to start in early May.

Road upgrades to enable larger equipment and machinery to access the pipeline route along the Stawamus and Mamquam Forest Service Roads, as well as the Ray Basin Road continue. The Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw Indigenous Monitors are working to monitor the project and to ensure all amphibians are being monitored and protected as they start replacing culverts, installing bridges and other crossings at streams along the pipeline route.

Swiyát (WOODFIBRE LNG)

The Floatel requires District of Squamish approval before it can house workers. The Floatel will house non-local workers and enable them to be transported directly to the worksite by boat from Vancouver, avoiding negative impacts to housing, traffic and social services in Squamish. The Floatel has been approved by the Nation, with conditions in place to ensure the safety of our community members, a result of the Squamish Nation Environmental Assessment Agreement.

With the warm spring weather, more wildlife is being observed including a pair of nesting eagles near Woodfibre Creek. Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw Indigenous Monitors are on site working to make sure appropriate sound and activity buffers are maintained around the nest to limit any disturbance to the eagles. No chicks have been observed to date.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN TRADITIONAL PLANT HARVESTING?

Back in Spring 2023, FortisBC started vegetation clearing along the pipeline route in preparation for pipeline construction. The Nation has continuously expressed the importance of our traditional medicines and plants along this corridor. We're looking for a team of Members interested in paid traditional plant harvesting along the route in advance of clearing activities.

If you are interested in paid plant harvesting work please contact swiyat@squamish.net or 778-966-1117.

EXPLANATION OF FLARING AT WOODFIBRE LNG

Known and emerging health risks of LNG terminal air pollution should be taken seriously and this continues to be a matter of interest for Słkwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw Ta na wa Yúus ta Stitúyntsam (Rights & Title).

We have retained air quality and emissions specialists to participate in air quality monitoring and permit conditions for project emissions, including from flaring. Options to minimize and monitor flaring remains a topic of discussion with WoodfibreLNG.

Flaring occurs during start-ups and shut-downs as part of ensuring safety of LNG plant operations. When flaring occurs, a flame will be visible from the "flare stack" (a narrow tower). Carbon dioxide and water are the primary byproducts of flaring. Other byproducts include carbon monoxide, particulates, soot, and nitrogen oxides.

The LNG plant is designed to maximize the use of natural gas for processing and production, so flaring that gas is not intended to be common. Flaring will occur for multiple days as part of the plant commissioning process. At this time, the project is required to maintain flare conditions within regulatory guidelines. During operations, flaring will be required occasionally for safety reasons, to manage gas pressure. This is expected to occur 10 or 11 days per year. Major facility maintenance will occur about every five years, and flaring will occur during these maintenance periods as well.

Rules for flaring (when it is allowed, how it is monitored, etc) are set through the BC Energy Regulator, and through Air Quality Management and Monitoring Plans required through environmental assessment approvals. Słkwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw is engaged with the permitting and development of monitoring plans as a regulator of the project. A key permit required by WoodfibreLNG is the Waste Discharge Authorization (WDA) for air emissions, required before commissioning. The WDA will stipulate the types, sources, and thresholds for authorized air emissions. The related monitoring plan (or plans) will detail how WoodfibreLNG monitors and reports on emissions and how equipment will be maintained and repaired to minimize leaks and the need for flaring. WoodfibreLNG is currently assessing technologies to track methane emissions, including satellites, handheld monitors and fixed leak detection monitors throughout the facility. WoodfibreLNG is also looking for design improvements that reduce the need for flaring, such as compressor improvements and the use of recycle lines.

WoodfibreLNG has provided calculations on their emissions, including flaring. Emissions during operations are expected to be roughly one quarter of the provincial guideline for LNG facilities and roughly one tenth of the global average for LNG plants. Up to 45,821 tonnes of carbon dioxide per year is predicted from stationary combustion and flaring. The most recent data from WoodfibreLNG were provided in the March 2023 Roadmap to Net Zero. Emissions will be monitored continuously when the facility begins operations in 2027, including emissions from equipment such as the flare, medium heater and thermal oxidizer. WoodfibreLNG's emissions will be reported by a third party, broken down by emission type and reported in regular updates to the publicly-available "Roadmap to Net Zero" on their website. If you have any questions or concerns regarding this topic please contact Whitney Joseph.

ha7lh skwáyel ta newyáp (good day to you all),

Thank you for your continued patience as we work on this critical and complex project. Our work has been progressing steadily and in a good way as we weave our Skwxwú7mesh culture and protocols together with advanced scientific technologies and methodologies.

As you may remember, the fieldwork began in August last year and will continue until we have certainty. The next step for the data we collected was to analyze and layer the data generated from the Ground Penetrating Radar (GPR), LiDAR, and Electrical Resistivity. We collected over 50 million data points that had to be analyzed after the completion of the groundwork.

Due to the precise nature of the work, analysis has taken time. We are employing two separate teams to conduct the analysis. These teams analyze without communicating with each other, which is called a "double blind" approach and follows scientific best practices. The information the data generated now offers us the next layer of information and provides us with direction for what to focus on next.

The data has identified several areas of interest at the former St. Paul's Indian Residential School that require further examination. These GPR, LiDAR, and Electrical Resistivity results are inconclusive and do not indicate burials. The data only shows areas that need the next layer of scientific review to be understood.

For the next phase of the work, we will use a percussion probe and a core sampler. Both methods are non-invasive and will offer us the next layer of scientific analysis in this process. The work using those methods will begin in the coming weeks.

We have also produced a video to explain the process to date, as well as what you can expect in the coming weeks and months as the Yúusnewas work continues. You can watch that video via the QR code.

As always, we would also like to remind you that health and wellness supports are in place for anyone in need in the community and will continue to be offered throughout this work.

The First Nations Child and Family Services and Jordan's Principle Settlement has been approved. This is what this means for you.

First Nations Child and Family Services and Jordan's Principle Settlement

The Court has approved the Settlement Agreement in the First Nations Child and Family Services and Jordan's Principle Class Action. This means that Canada will pay $23.34 billion in compensation for impacted First Nations children and some of their family members.

This notice provides information about the Settlement. You can find more information and sign up for updates at www.fnchildclaims.ca or you can call 1-833-852-0755.

What's the Settlement about?

The Settlement provides compensation to First Nations children living on reserves or in the Yukon who were removed from their homes by child welfare agencies operating in First Nations communities and placed in out-of-home care between April 1, 1991 and March 31, 2022.

The Settlement also provides compensation to First Nations children who did not receive timely access to essential services and who had a confirmed need for those services between April 1, 1991 and November 2, 2017. This treatment discriminated against the children and broke a legal rule known as Jordan's Principle.

Am I included in the Settlement?

Compensation is not yet available. When it becomes available, you may be eligible for compensation if you are one or more of the following:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Nations children who, while under the age of majority between April 1, 1991 and March 31, 2022, were living on a reserve and were removed from their homes by child welfare authorities or voluntarily placed into care. • The placement was funded by Indigenous Services Canada (ISC). • At least one caregiver (parents or grandparents) were resident on reserve or living in the Yukon. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Nations children (living on-reserve or off-reserve) who were confirmed to need an essential service but faced a delay, denial or a gap in receiving that essential service between April 1, 1991 and November 2, 2017. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Nations children placed off-reserve with a non-family caregiver. • The caregiver did not receive any funding related to the placement. • A Child Welfare Authority was involved at the time of the placement. • Caregiving parent or grandparent of children of the Kith Child Class <small>*If you think you are in this group or their parent or grandparent, and you want to be excluded from the settlement, you can remove yourself by submitting an Opt-Out Form, by January 15, 2024. If you submit the Opt-Out Form, you will not receive compensation from the settlement.</small>
The caregiving parent or grandparent of a child who experienced removal or a delay or denial of an essential service This includes birth, adoptive and step parents. It does not include foster parents. Removed Child Family Class Jordan's Principle Family Class Trout Family Class
 A fund of $50 million will be established to assist First Nations children and families impacted by Canada's discrimination. An additional fund of $90 million will be established to benefit high-needs Jordan's Principle class members to ensure their personal dignity and well-being.

When will I receive compensation?

The first Claim Forms will be available in several months. Please visit www.fnchildclaims.ca for more information, updates and timelines, and to find out when Claim Forms will be available.

What can I do now?

Sign up for updates at www.fnchildclaims.ca. This will ensure that you receive updates on the claims process and a copy of the Claim Forms when they are available.

There are supports and resources available to help you understand the Settlement and apply for compensation when the claims process is open.

 To learn more about the Settlement and sign up for updates on the claims process, visit www.fnchildclaims.ca.	 Claims support services are available by calling the Administrator at 1-833-852-0755.	 If you are experiencing emotional distress and would like to speak with a counsellor, please contact the Hope for Wellness Helpline at 1-855-242-3310, or visit www.hopeforwellness.ca to chat.
