Woodfibre LNG & Eagle Mountain Gas Pipeline Projects

| Ta na wa Yúus ta Stitúyntsah Rights and Title

| Community Update

| August 28, 2026

Keeping Community Informed

Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw has a similar regulatory role as the provincial or federal governments in oversight of the Woodfibre LNG Project and FortisBC Eagle Mountain Gas Pipeline Project. The role, and 33 conditions, are part of the legally binding Squamish Nation Environmental Assessment Agreements (SNEAAs). Our Rights and Title Department oversee the conditions of the agreements and are committed to keep Membership informed and updated on these projects.

Updates

Introduction to Flaring

Flaring is expected to begin at Woodfibre LNG in 2027

Flaring is the burning of excess natural gas to maintain appropriate pressure in WoodfibreLNG's facility systems. It occurs during start-up, maintenance and shutdown, or an unplanned event such as a power outage. It's part of safe operation of the LNG Facility — and although the flame could look concerning — flaring results in fewer greenhouse gas emissions than if gas was released without burning. Flaring is to occur more frequently in roughly three years of commissioning and early operations of the LNG facility.

Q&A

What is in a gas flare?

Natural gas is in the flare – the same as what's used to heat homes or cook on stoves. Carbon dioxide and water are the primary byproducts of the flaring process. Other byproducts can include carbon monoxide, particulate matter, soot, nitrogen oxide and volatile organic compounds.

How is flaring regulated?

Flaring relates to several regulatory tools. Three key ones are the Facility Permit, the Waste Discharge

| WLNG flare stack being installed at the site.

Permit, and the Air Quality Mitigation and Monitoring Plan.

The BC Energy Regulator (BCER) authorizes facility operations, including flaring, through the WoodfibreLNG Facility Permit. An LNG Facility Permit holder must ensure the duration of flaring and the quantity of gas that is flared is minimized.

To operate, WoodfibreLNG will also require a Waste Discharge Permit (WDP) for air emissions, including emissions from flaring. The WDP will set enforceable limits on the type and quantity of substances the facility can release. Emissions are monitored and reported against limits set in the permit. Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw will engage with BCER on the WDP Application. There will also be a public comment period in the fall.

The Air Quality Mitigation and Monitoring Plan fulfils Environmental Assessment approval conditions from Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw, Impact Assessment Agency of Canada, and BC Environmental Assessment Office. The SNEAA requires that the Plan be approved by Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw prior to commissioning. This approval step ensures inclusion of important monitoring or reporting aspects about flaring's impacts to air quality.

How long will flaring last, and how large will it be?

When WoodfibreLNG starts commissioning, expected in 2027, the flare stack will have a constant one metre (three foot) pilot flame. The flare stack is similar to a pilot light on a gas stove.

When there is a need for a full gas flare, which can last for 15 minutes to a few days depending on the reason for the flare, the flame is expected to be 60 metres (200 feet), or up to 90 metres (300 feet) in the event of an emergency.

Elders Centre Expansion Update

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES ON SCHEDULE

The North Shore Elders Centre expansion is expected to be complete by years' end. The project, led by Ta na wa Shéway I7xw ta Úxwumixw (Planning & Capital Projects), is right on schedule.

Elders should be able to start moving back into the renovated centre by the end of January 2027.

Recent project work includes installing new windows, interior finishings, as well as re-establishing service connections such as hydro, water and sewer. The new Elders Centre will be more than double in size from the original – with room for up to 140 Elders. It includes larger dining and lounge spaces to gather in, an expanded kitchen and a traditional medicine garden.

Squamish Elders co-created the design to allow for important traditions such as an arts and culture space large enough to accommodate looms for weaving.

During construction on the Centre, access to the Shaker Church and Longhouse is being maintained.

Seákw Artist Call

Exciting Opportunity for Skwxwú7mesh Artists at Seákw

Nch'kay invites Skwxwú7mesh Úxwumixw artists to submit an Expression of Interest (EOI) for a large-scale 2D feature wall artwork in the Tower 3 Amenity Exit Staircase at Seákw.

This opportunity centres on a dramatic three-storey concrete wall spanning Levels 38, 39, and 40. Framed by a skylight above and glazing into adjacent lobby spaces, the artwork will help shape a place of movement, gathering, transition, and reflection within one of Seákw's highest shared resident spaces.

The selected work should reflect distinctly Skwxwú7mesh design language and cultural presence while responding thoughtfully to the stairwell's scale, light, and architectural character. Collaborative submissions and mentorship with emerging artists are encouraged.

Artist Fee
$7,500 for the Artist's scope (artwork design and development, production ready graphic file preparation, artist meeting attendance, and related expenses).

How to Apply
Submit EOI via email to: culturaladvisory@nchkay.com
with subject line: EOI Seákw Exit Stair Feature Wall

A concept or design is not required at this stage.
